

Ex Libris
JOHN AND MARTHA DANIELS

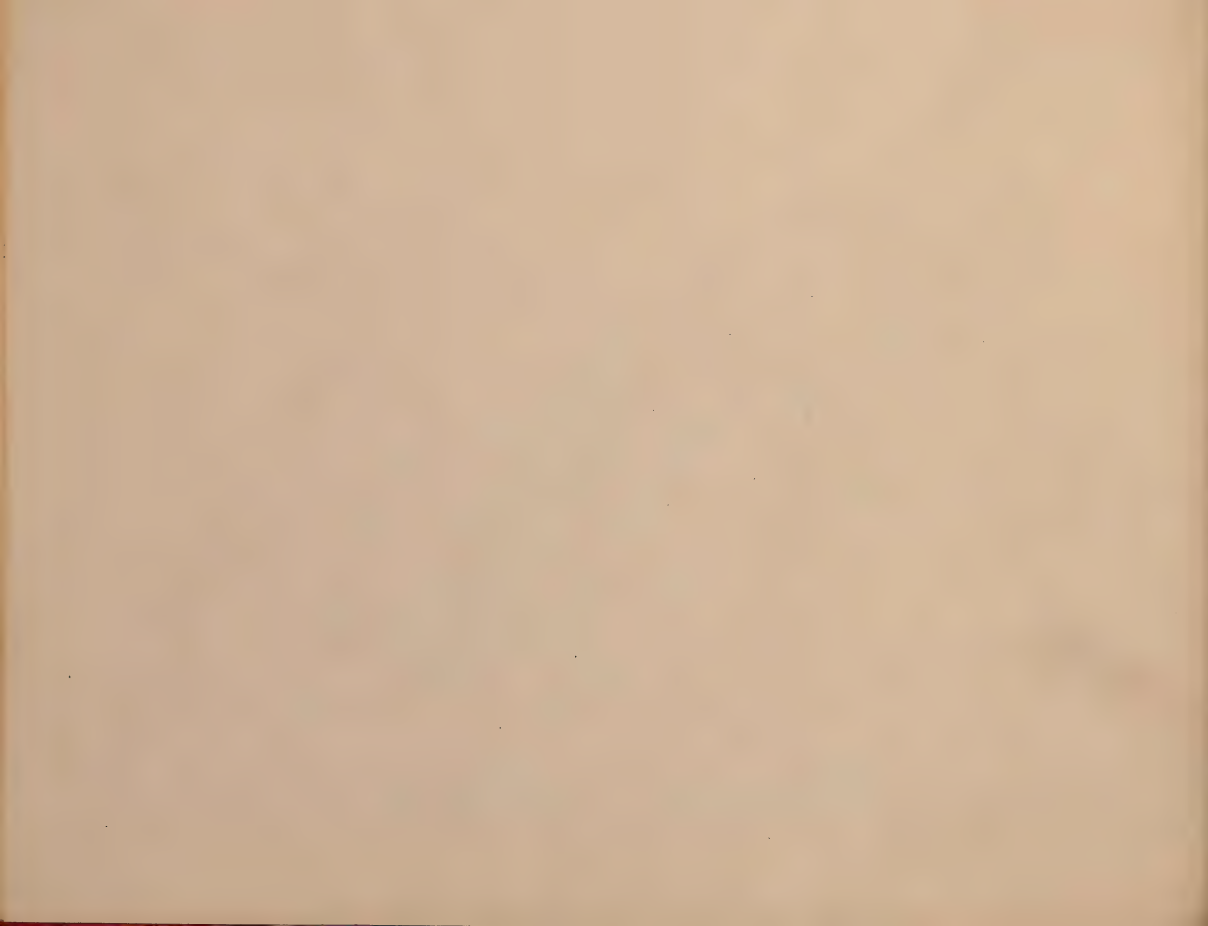

Having with oral persuasion gained the consent of your favorite Lads, to take an afternoon ride, obliged to hire, you request a sturdy one, which you DISCOVER you have obtained; not to mention the company of a Donkey Boy or two, who are constantly offering their assistance, and from whom you find it impossible to get away.

London, Pub Jan^y 1, 1817, by S & J Fuller, 34, Rathbone Place.

Bunyng along the road 16 miles an hour, with a very dashing Thirlum, your leader comes down, and you DISCOVER a new way of bringing your Equipage into a small compass.

Trying a new match you DISCOVER that they are not only light in colour, weight & action, but in disposition

Making a dash with a gay Tilbury, your friend recognizes a Brother Officer not famous for his beauty, and with him a very dashing lady in the endeavour to gain her attention, you DISCOVER you have overlooked a small Post on your whip hand

Breaking up the most expensive part of your Establishment, the last DISCOVERY but one viz a five and forty foot Gravel Pit on your off side.

Having persuaded Mamma to entrust her darling to your care, by assuring her of your great skill in driving, and the quiet disposition of your Horse...No sooner started than you DISCOVER that the reins are under his tail by the singularity of his action.

Up & down or the endeavour to DISCOVER which way your Horse is inclined to come down backwards or forwards.
